Volunteering for my local hospice

About me:

I have a BSc in psychology and quite a bit of experience in mediation and negotiation, first as a mum of 4 and then in my working life plus of course as a Lib Dem activist. I am a qualified Mastercoach with experience in Lean management from working in business improvement for both very large and very small businesses. (Both of these involve bringing about change to ensure people and processes work together for the optimum results).

In 2017, I returned to my first love of being an entrepreneur and opened an award winning tea room. Four years ago, I added a second high street business and both are running successfully. I live in the North West so am outside of the south east bubble.

I will bring my business acumen to the running of the Party. I am keen to see the Party negotiate more and be sued less.

Elizabeth Jewkes for Federal Council

I am best known as the ordinary party member who created the policy of raising the income tax threshold. Read how I did it on Lib Dem Voice:

Committed to ensuring the party
and our policies are inclusive of EVERYONE.

You won't find endorsements from party bigwigs on my manifesto. The only endorsement that matters to me is yours.
