

Callum Robertson – your first choice for Federal Conference Committee

Who am I?

Having been a party member for over a decade, I have dedicated a large amount of my time to campaigning to ensure that Liberal Democrats win.

However, outside of the Liberal Democrats, I have a successful career as a teacher, lecturer and education policy expert. During this career, I have worked with the world leading National Institute of Teaching, where I have led on teacher training for early careers teachers.

Recently, my first book “Education Policy: a commentary on contemporary education issues” came out and was cited by the CEO of Humanists UK as a “must read”.

Callum's Experience within the Liberal Democrats:

I have a huge amount of experience within our party, some of this experience includes:

- Standing to become the Member of Parliament for Clacton – coming third with 5.8% (given the area, quite the achievement).
- Chairing the national Young Liberals as our party rebuilt from 2019, including leading our work during the Chesham and Amersham by-election.
- Former campaigns organiser and press officer at HQ – working on several by elections in the Cambridgeshire area.
- At the last set of federal elections, you were good enough to elect me as a directly-elected Member of the Federal Board where I helped drive our 2024 General Election Strategy.

Three positive reasons to back Callum for Federal Conference Committee

- ✓ A better member experience at conference: the cost of conference is up and member attendance is down, I want to increase the number of businesses and think tanks coming to conference with a proactive marketing approach, meaning we can cut the cost for members.
- ✓ Ensure a better balance between member debates and speeches by MPs/Peers ensuring that the best of our party is on display.
- ✓ Work with party bodies such the LDEA and LibSTEMM as well as external organisations, to ensure that our fringe (panels and receptions) offer is stronger than currently and that those events act as a catalyst for new ideas.

Callum Robertson for Federal Conference Committee

Experience – Voice of Members – Fresh Ideas

Get in touch: crobertsonld@gmail.com