Chris Adams

for FCC

About me

I am a proud European and committed liberal who has stood for Parliament twice – in 2017 and 2024 – and previously served as Vice Chair of Federal Conference Committee.

My priorities

1 Take the fight to Reform by ensuring members have the space at Conference to debate and agree policies which our activists are proud to campaign on.

2 Continue to chair complex debates at Conference in a sensitive and balanced way, ensuring members' voices are heard.

3 Expand the use of topical debates, so members' voices can be heard on the Conference floor before policies are developed.

4 Prioritise motions submitted by members and AOs where possible, putting ordinary members at the heart of our policymaking.

Campaigners from across the party are backing Chris for FCC:

Sal, Baroness Brinton
Party President
(2015-19)

"Chris has done an excellent job on Federal Conference Committee – ensuring that the voice of the members is heard, chairing Conference sessions thoughtfully and fairly. He understands the importance of holding power to account, as well as being a member-led party. Please re-elect him to get more of the same!"

Chris Adams

Why me?

Having served on FCC previously, including as Vice Chair of the committee, I have the experience to ensure that members voices are heard at a crucial time for our Party. In 2019 I campaigned on a platform of widening participation in conference, including via online votes – a promise delivered.

As a campaigner, parliamentary candidate in 2017 and 2024, and as a former party staffer, I know just how important our conference is as the shop front for our party.

I firmly believe that our party is at its best when members' voices are heard – proudly demonstrating the democracy which defines us.

Now – more than ever – we need to ensure our party is positioned as the liberal opposition to Reform, and believe our conference is the best way to achieve this.

By electing me, you will be electing a representative onto FCC who will always ensure your voice is heard, and that our conference remains a constructive forum for effective, liberal debate.

Layla Moran
Lib Dem MP for Oxford
West & Abingdon

"Chris has time and again shown himself to be a brilliant chair of our conference debates. On some of the most difficult and heartfelt issues – whether on Israel-Palestine or our members' code of conduct – he's created the space for members to speak, be heard and treated with respect. That's what our party is all about. I know that if elected, Chris will keep making sure our debates reflect the openness, balance and compassion that make us who we are."

Alistair Carmichael
Former Chief Whip &
MP for Orkney & Shetland

"Chris is a capable and effective chair of conference debates, as I've seen first-hand. He communicates clearly, treats people with respect, and keeps discussions on track. If elected, he will continue to bring the fairness and good judgement our party needs."
