

Sandra Gidley

Please vote for me for FCC

I have experienced Conference at many levels. I remember what it was like to be new and nervous and attending all the debates. As a councillor and a woman candidate I then took advantage of the excellent training that is available. My campaign for the Romsey by-election was launched at conference and this was followed by 10 years working my socks off as an MP. I have previously been on FCC and now that I have retired from full time work I have time to devote to the role. Having seen conference in all its many guises I realise that conference means different things to different people. If I am elected then I will work hard to ensure that conference ticks the boxes for as many people as possible.
