

RADICAL. CARING. WINNING.

Re-elect Dr MOHSIN KHAN

If we do not answer fear and division with hope and unity, we will not become the Official Opposition nor run 100+ Councils. We are the only alternative.

We need clear, principled policies responding to crises - of a callous centralising Labour Govt, of cruel Tories and far-right Reform. We must address cost of living, climate, housing, fair and green productivity, and more. We are worried about our children, education, wages (esp young people), housing (renting and buying!), energy, economy, and whether the NHS/care will be there for us. We need clarity.

Our policies must offer liberal solutions to what voters care about – to help our campaigners win seats. We must be radical, fair and green, driven by evidence and the diverse experiences we hear – from both voters and our members.

JANEY LITTLE

‘It has been a pleasure to work with Mohsin on FPC, including recently on the mental health working group. He always brings a valuable perspective to our discussions, he supports members in getting involved in policy, and he strives to embed diversity and equality into our policy making.’

ANTON GEORGIU

‘Mohsin understands how crucial it is that our party reaches out to diverse communities to win elections.’

A RANGE OF EXPERIENCE

✓ NHS mental health doctor, school governor, ex-trade union rep, campaigner.

✓ Media experience to know how our policies will be framed and reported by others.

✓ Experience in Whitehall, Westminster, think tanks, and as a local candidate - Mohsin knows how policy is used at all levels.

A plan to strengthen our policies

1

Strengthen links between our policy process and members, councillors, and campaigners across the whole country.

We need to draw on work from councillors, council groups, party bodies, and regions to pool policy talent across all of England, Scotland, and Wales – and understand their different needs. Mohsin continues his push for working groups to engage earlier and more often with all of these groups.

2

Diversify our working groups, with a greater range of different socio-economic, educational, gender, LGBT+, and ethnic minority/global majority experiences.

Mohsin has worked to diversify the party as the ex-Chair and now Vice-Chair of Lib Dem Campaign for Race Equality, and has worked hard with LDDA, Young Liberals, Lib Dem Women, LDHCA, and LGBT+LD. He knows the value of lived experiences alongside technical expertise. It is our responsibility to reach out to under-represented groups - not theirs to come to us. Over 6 years of hard work on FPC, Mohsin has helped improve socio-economic, educational, and other intersectional diversity in applications to our working groups - but knows there is more to do.

Trust members to be involved at every stage of our party's policy-making.

We must involve more party members - earlier, quicker, online and in-person. Conference is not enough. We must not forget all those who apply to groups and aren't accepted. Mohsin has repeatedly pushed for contentious decisions to go back to conference - rather than FPC or the Leadership or Parliamentarians deciding for us all. You, our Members, are Sovereign.

A record of hard work, a promise of hope - so we can win elections and change lives

Consistently one of the top attendance records on FPC. Mohsin works hard, while being both radical and constructive. He has a track record in getting different parts of the Party and members feeding into policy and real-life change. He has sat on policy working groups for nearly two decades - including vice-chairing and chairing groups. He knows results are what matters and we are still falling short. He knows we need to improve faster and harder.

A Body of Hard Work. He has co-edited chapters of The World After Covid and Build Back Better, vice-chaired the Social Care Paper, served on the Leader's Carers Commission, and is chairing the Mental Health Paper. He worked with other bodies to improve policy and conference collaboration, including how we use new tech - and knows we have more to do. He has active, reforming roles on 3 FPC subgroups: equalities; working groups; and member engagement.

Real-life experience in the NHS and mental health. Mohsin's daily experience caring for patients and service users helps him create realistic policy and campaign. Over a decade he has worked with members to help strengthen our policies on some of the most urgent crises facing the country.

Mohsin engages with YOU

Don't just take Mohsin's word for it - Listen to MPs, Peers, and Key Diversity Group members:

CLLR HINA BOKHARI AM OBE

'I have worked with Mohsin on many initiatives and projects on diversity and inclusion in the party. He has always been incredibly supportive of his fellow members who want to be proactive in developing our party and increasing its reach. Mohsin is already a reliable and trusted member of the FPC.'

LAYLA MORAN MP

'I have worked with Mohsin over many years developing policy. He is an innovative thinker and collaborates actively with others. He has an acute understanding of a range of important policy areas, ranging from diversity to health and social care.'

LORD SHAFFAQ MOHAMMED

'I've seen Mohsin's top work on the Leader's Carers Commission. Mohsin listened to the problems people faced and came up with innovative policy ideas...He's an asset to FPC.'

CLLR DONNA HARRIS

'I have worked with Mohsin on several occasions regarding policy and have always found his insight and knowledge invaluable...I know how important his voice is in ensuring inclusion and fairness are at the heart of our work. Mohsin's contributions strengthen our policy discussions, and his presence on FPC would be an essential asset if we are serious about delivering the best policies we can.'

MUNIRA WILSON MP

'Mohsin was a great help on health and social care in my former role as Commons health spokesperson. Alongside his NHS experience, he brings an excellent political sense. He knows how the party works, and what ideas and policies work in Parliament, in election campaigns, and to attract press coverage.'

LEE DARGUE

'His commitment to hard work, and representing a wide range of views in policy development is both welcome and vital to the role. Mohsin regularly keeps people up to date...[have seen] Mohsin raising many policies and successfully amending motions at conferences, which end up in our manifestos.'

WERA HOBHOUSE MP

'Mohsin has been a wonderful member on the FPC who contributes to every meeting with his balanced and considered views.'

His insights are particularly important when we consider to work towards full gender and racial equality, support disability rights and the LGBT+ community and how to stand up for the most inclusive society we can be.'
